The International Network of Women in Alternative Dispute Resolution

We are proud of our work in promoting women in arbitration and/or generally ADR through events, social gatherings, mentoring and sponsorship.

Our primary objective is to promote women and diversity in international dispute resolution

Over 1,000 members 30 years 40 countries

Our membership includes professional women working in the field of arbitration and/or ADR in various roles, including but not limited to counsel, arbitrator, mediator, neutral, adjudicator, expert, surveyor, facilitator, ombudswoman, forensic consultant, online dispute resolution professional and academic.

ArbitalWomen provides a powerful platform for women active in international dispute resolution to increase their visibility, forge valuable connections and promote gender equality and diversity.

Our members benefit from

Making connections

Meeting other women in the field, including one-on-one using ArbitralWomen Connect Programme, exchanging ideas, and celebrating the future of women in ADR.

We encourage our members to organise their own networking events. We can help you prepare and provide experienced panelists for a successful ArbitralWomen co-branded event that provides you with increased visibility in the field.

Promoting our members

Increasing our members' visibility by promoting their initiatives and thought leadership, and showcasing their skills and expertise.

News coverage

Featuring all the recent developments affecting women in dispute resolution. Keeping our members informed of events and news through email alerts and social media.

Mentoring

Pairing up with a member who has a different experience as a 'critical friend' who will provide support and help you develop your career. This programme exemplifies how together, the role of women in the field can continue to grow and strengthen. We also have Parental Mentorship Programme.

Young ArbitralWomen Practitioners YAWP

A forum in which young ArbitralWomen members can share experiences and practical advice. Collaboration and knowledge-sharing are vital for bridging the gender gap and advancing women's careers.

Find a practitioner

We provide a dedicated search tool to find recommended female arbitration/ADR practitioners and speakers.

We also provide moot competition support for law students and for capacity building programmes.
