Sandrina Antohi

BIOGRAPHY

Sandrina Antohi is a senior associate in the international arbitration and public international law practices of Shearman & Sterling LLP. Sandrina represents private entities, States as well as individuals in international commercial and investor-State arbitrations. She also provides pre-dispute advice and advice in relation to the enforcement of arbitral awards. Her experience includes arbitrations under the ICSID, ICC, SCC, HKIAC, and UNCITRAL rules in the energy, construction, financial and communication technology sectors. Sandrina has experience as an arbitral tribunal secretary.

In parallel, Sandrina is a member of Shearman & Sterling's Human Rights at Sea Arbitration team. A collaboration between Shearman & Sterling and UK-based charity Human Rights at Sea, this innovative project seeks to develop a system for the arbitration of complaints concerning human rights abuses at sea.

Since 2019, Sandrina has been a visiting lecturer in law at Université Paris-Nanterre in France, within its Master program in International Business Law, teaching the practice of international commercial contracts. Sandrina is also an active member of the Policy and Advocacy Committee of the Young Canadian Arbitration Practitioners ("YCAP") group and has worked on YCAP amicus briefs and requests to intervene before the Supreme Court of Canada, in cases shaping contemporary Canadian arbitration law.

Prior to joining Shearman & Sterling in 2014, Sandrina was an NYU Research Fellow with the International Law Commission in Geneva, Switzerland.
