Nicola is a senior associate in the Washington, DC office of Three Crowns LLP, where she has a broad practice in international dispute settlement. She has appeared as counsel in various international commercial and investment treaty arbitrations, as well as before the International Court of Justice, on behalf of States and private parties. She is the Legal Secretary to the International Tennis Federation Ethics Commission and has led numerous investigations into ethical complaints in sport. She has an active pro bono practice, including providing legal support to developing country negotiators and NGOs attending the international climate change treaty negotiations.

She is recommended for International Arbitration in The Legal 500 US for 2022 and in Who's Who Legal: Future Leaders for 2022, which highlighted her “reputation for excellence,” noting that she is “thorough and well-prepared” and is considered “an expert in environmental disputes.” Nicola has also been ranked as an Associate to Watch by Chambers USA 2023 and praised as “a fabulous lawyer,” “a great writer,” and “prepared, unflappable on her feet.”

Nicola is a member of ArbitralWomen, the International Bar Association’s under-40 arbitration sub-committee, the ICCA Task Force on Gender Diversity in International Arbitral Appointments and Proceedings, and the ICC Task Force on Arbitration of Climate Change Related Disputes. Prior to joining Three Crowns, she worked as Assistant Legal Counsel at the Permanent Court of Arbitration in The Hague. Nicola holds degrees from the University of Cambridge, Imperial College, London, and University College, London. She is admitted to practice as a barrister in England & Wales and registered as a Special Legal Consultant in Washington, DC.
