

Washington D.C.
T + 1.202.508.8173
liz.vincento@shearman.com

Liz Vincento

BIOGRAPHY

Liz Vincento is an associate in Shearman and Sterling's International Arbitration practice. Her experience includes international arbitration conducted under the AAA, CPR, and ICC Rules and focuses on matters spanning construction, infrastructure, intellectual property, and energy.

RECENT EXPERIENCE INCLUDES REPRESENTATION OF:

- A joint venture of construction contractors, Respondents in an ICC arbitration, brought by a state sponsored organization arising out of the development of a world-class medical facility in the Middle East with over USD 3.7 billion at stake.
- A European biotech company, Claimant in an arbitration in New York under the CPR non-administered rules against a North American company in the healthcare sector. The dispute arises from a collaboration agreement and New York law applies.
- A technology services and software company in an action in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York to enforce a settlement agreement arising out of an AAA arbitration.
- An oil and gas major on its defense of hundreds of local court proceedings in South-East Asia in relation to employee and contractor rights, its potential commercial and investment arbitration claims under production sharing contracts and contractor agreements, and case management processes.
- A news media company in an action before a New York court to enforce an AAA arbitration award. The underlying dispute concerned an information technology and financial and accounting services agreement.

QUALIFICATIONS

Education

- The George Washington University Law School, J.D.
- University of Delaware, B.A., cum laude in Political Science and Mass Communications

Bar Admissions

- New York
- District of Columbia

Languages

LIZ VINCENTO (CONTINUED)

- English
- Spanish

Nationality

U.S.

OF NOTE

Professional Affiliations

- Member, New York State Bar Association
- Member, D.C. Very Young Arbitration Practitioners

Publication

- Elizabeth Vincento, Note, Congress has the Power to Declare War – But What About a Trade War?: The Separation of Powers as a Means to Combat Protectionist Use of Section 232, 29 Fed. Cir. B. J. 281 (2020).