

Rebecca Gosden

Manager

Tel: +44 (0)203 307 4221

Email: rebecca.gosden@interpathadvisory.com

Background

Rebecca is a Manager in Interpath Advisory's Forensic Services practice. She is a forensic accountant with five years' experience in fraud and regulatory investigations, disputes, and international arbitration.

Rebecca has experience in the preparation of expert reports, witness statements, and various other deliverables in cases in ICC arbitral proceedings and the High Court. Her work has spanned a range of sectors including government; construction; financial services; oil and gas; manufacturing & transport; retail; pharmaceuticals and technology.

Rebecca has a Masters in Mathematics from King's College London and is a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.

Representative experience

Rebecca's representative experience includes:

- Post-acquisition dispute: Assisted with the preparation of an expert report for a small firm in the foreign exchange industry. Rebecca drafted large sections of the report, and the analysis of a large and diverse data set.
- Post-acquisition dispute, split into two ICC arbitral proceedings: Expert assessment and verification of cost-based claims; quantification of damages arising from the alleged inflated price paid to acquire the acquisition target, and loss of profit and chance due to pre-acquisition bribery and corruption. Rebecca prepared the calculations and drafted sections of the report.
- Cash tracing: Rebecca assisted with the preparation of a factual witness statement for the high court, and developed an in-depth cash tracing methodology to provide reasoned evidence for the funding of disputed assets and accounts. Rebecca analysed various third-party documentation alongside the client's accounting system, and applied the methodology to identify the sources of funding. Rebecca produced several diagrams for the client using the i2 Analyst's Notebook.
- In a claim before the Competition Tribunal, competition damages litigation in relation to a major European cartel: Expert advice on the quantum, if any, of overcharge passed on to the Claimants' customers. Rebecca prepared the analysis and drafted sections of the report.
- Litigation following alleged fraud: Expert advice regarding the commercial value and benefit of contractual arrangements entered into as part of bond issuances. Rebecca prepared the analysis and drafted sections of the report.
- Post-acquisition dispute: Assisted with the verification of accounting adjustments and reconciliation of schedules for an acquired entity that was accused of accounting manipulation going back several years. Rebecca drafted small sections of the report for use in litigation proceedings.
- In an audit negligence claim before the High Court, Business and Property Courts, Commercial Court, Queen's Bench Division: Expert advice on the quantum of damages in a claim brought by company administrators against one of the Big-4 accounting firms. Rebecca prepared the analysis.
- ICC arbitration: Prepared an expert report for a construction dispute in the Middle East. Rebecca reviewed documentation provided, drafted sections of the report and analysed general ledger extracts to prepare graphics and other insights for the client.